For Brad and Charlie Parker, even their best intentions lead to trouble in the new book-

Where Would Cows Hide?

by D.C. Stewart

While their parents are on vacation in Hawaii, eleven year old twins Brad and Charlie Parker, and their little sister Zoey, arrive at their grandparents' cattle ranch in Oklahoma to discover nothing is as it should be.

Grandpa and Grandma's cattle are disappearing; mysterious strangers are lurking around the ranch; the strange lady at church seems to know their every move; not to mention a psychic lazy dog; and a weird little sister always getting in the way.

How will these twin troublemakers unravel this strange mystery?

Find out in the new book Where Would Cows Hide? (ISBN: 978-0-9787316-7-0) by debut author D.C. Stewart. Released March 2008 from Baker Trittin Press.

D.C. Stewart grew up in Thomas, Oklahoma. She began writing short stories in high school, and won a writing competition at Southwestern Oklahoma State University at age 17. After graduating, she attended Northwestern Oklahoma State University and earned a degree in History. She worked for a church in Maumelle, Arkansas as the Communications coordinator for five years, and after returning to Oklahoma, she chose to pursue her dream of being a full-time writer. D.C. Stewart lives near Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and is a member of the Society of Children's Book Writers and Illustrators, and the American Christian Fiction Writers.
